2	INTRODUCED BY B. CARTER
4	A JOINT RESOLUTION OF THE SENATE AND THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE STATE OF
5	MONTANA PROCLAIMING THAT THE STATE OF MONTANA SUPPORTS ADMITTING WASHINGTON,
6	D.C., INTO THE UNION AS A STATE OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
8	WHEREAS, since the ratification of the United States Constitution on June 21, 1788, the Congress of
9	the United States has had the power "to exercise exclusive Legislation in all Cases whatsoever, over such
10	District (not exceeding ten Miles square) as may, by Cession of particular States, and the Acceptance of 11	Congress, become the Seat of the Government of the United States"; and
12	WHEREAS, the seat of government of the United States was accepted by Congress on July 16, 1790,
13	transferred from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the District on December 1, 1800, in accordance with
14	the Residence Act of 1790, and organized into the District of Columbia under the entire control of Congress for
15	every purpose of government on February 27, 1801, in accordance with the District of Columbia Organic Act of
16	1801, through which the residents ceased to be considered citizens of a state and were no longer entitled to all
17	the rights, guaranties, and immunities of the Constitution, including but not limited to the right to appoint at least

WHEREAS, the 23rd Amendment to the Constitution was proposed by Congress on June 16, 1960, and ratified by a sufficient number of states on March 29, 1961, granting "the District constituting the seat of Government of the United States" the right to appoint "a number of electors of President and Vice President equal to the whole number of Senators and Representatives in Congress to which the District would be entitled if it were a State, but in no event more than the least populous State"; and three electors in the Electoral College for President and Vice President of the United States, the right to elect two Senators and at least one Representative in the Congress, and the right to self-govern and ratify proposed

WHEREAS, Congress granted a delegate to the House of Representatives from the District of Columbia, who "shall have a seat in the House of Representatives, with the right of debate, but not of voting", on September 22, 1970, in accordance with the District of Columbia Delegate Act, after previously establishing the position on February 21, 1871, and repealing the position on June 20, 1874; and

WHEREAS, enactment of the District of Columbia Home Rule Act by Congress on December 24, 1973, and ratification of the Charter Referendum by a majority of the voters of the District of Columbia on May 7, 1974, reorganized the District of Columbia by granting limited powers of local self-government to an elected 13-member Council of the District of Columbia and an elected Mayor of the District of Columbia to "relieve Congress of the burden of legislating upon essentially local District matters". However, Congress granted no local control over the judiciary and reserved "the right, at any time, to exercise its constitutional authority as legislature for the District, by enacting legislation for the District on any subject, whether within or without the scope of legislative power granted to the Council ... including legislation to amend or repeal any law in force in the District"; and

WHEREAS, historically, Congress and the President of the United States have interfered with the District of Columbia's local self-government and Home Rule by enacting resolutions disapproving, amending, and repealing actions of the Council of the District of Columbia and the Mayor of the District of Columbia -- including cases concerning the location of chanceries on December 20, 1979, sexual assault reform on October 1, 1981, schedule of heights on March 12, 1991, and a revised criminal code on March 20, 2023 -- and by imposing budget riders that control and limit the use of locally raised tax revenue, including cases concerning reproductive health services, cannabis use, and statehood advocacy; and

WHEREAS, on multiple occasions, a majority of the voters of the District of Columbia have approved initiatives and referendums expressing a desire for statehood, most recently on November 8, 2016, through which 85.69% of voters:

- (1) agreed that the District should be admitted to the Union as the State of New Columbia;
- (2) approved the Constitution of the State of New Columbia;
 - (3) approved the proposed boundaries between the State of New Columbia and the federal enclave; and
 - (4) agreed that the State of New Columbia shall guarantee an elected representative form of government; and
- 28 WHEREAS, other state and territorial legislatures in the United States have introduced, debated, and

69th Legislature 2025 HJ 18.1

passed resolutions that support admitting the District of Columbia into the Union as a state of the United States of America: and

- WHEREAS, despite the Constitution establishing that "New States may be admitted by the Congress into this Union", and despite the United States House of Representatives passing the Washington, D.C.
- 5 Admission Act on June 26, 2020, and again on April 22, 2021, which would declare the state of Washington,
- 6 Douglass Commonwealth, to be "a State of the United States of America, and declared admitted into the Union
- 7 on an equal footing with the other States in all respects whatever", Congress has yet to grant full statehood to
- 8 the approximately 700,000 people of Washington, D.C.

 - (3) That the State of Montana calls on Congress and the President of the United States to enact federal legislation granting statehood to the people of Washington, D.C.
 - BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the Secretary of State send a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Montana Congressional Delegation.
